MARGULIES TRIO.

Second Number in Academy Course Comes on Tuesday Evening, Jan. 11.

The coming chamber music concert by the Adele Margulies Trio, which will take place in Slater Memorial hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11, promises to be one of the most interesting, mu-sically and from an educational stand-rount of the three concerts which sically and from an educational stand-point, of the three concerts which have been arranged for this season's Academy course. There are a num-ber of string quartettes before the public, all of them good, but the op-portunity to hear beautiful music in tric form is one that is seldom offered to the music-loving public. The Man-gulies Trio is composed of the fol-lowing members: Adele Margulies, planist; Leopold Idetenberg, violin-ist; Alwin Schroeder, 'cellist, and it is not surpassed by any similar organ-ization in Europe or America. Follow-ing is the programme which will be given next Tuesday evening:

Trio Op. 1 No. 2 C minor—Beethoven
Allegro con brio
Andante cantabile con variazioni
Menuetto—quasi allegro
Prestissimo
Variations Concertantes Op 17.
Mendelssohn

For Plano and Violoncello.

Sonata Op. 10 E minor,

Erkki Melartin

For Plane and Violin. Allegro molto vivace Trio Op. 25 No. 1 F major, Georg Schumann

Allegro amabile
Andante con espressione
Allegretto grazioso

It is a well balanced programme, one that gives each player an oppor-tunity to be heard to advantage. One notable number on the programme is the "Georg Schumann Trio Op. 25 No. 1 F major," a very fine composition, which will be played for the first time in America, at the concert next Tues day evening.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the store of George A. Davis Admission $1, all seats reserved.

great future for his only son, Frank. At the outbreak of the Civil war a re-cruiting station is opened in the Vir-ginia village where the Winslows live, but Frank, obsessed with fear, enlists only after his father has threatened to kill him if he refuses. The very first night in picket duty the boy deserts and returns home. His father, in shame ranks. Frank hides in the garret whe union force raids the village and overhears several northern officers dis. cuss a weak point in their line. Fear departing, he holds them up and gets the plans. Then follows a thrilling ride to the confederate camp. As he dashes across a bridge his father, on picket, shoots and horse and rider tumble into the swift current. The boy reaches shore, however, and with a knowledge of the enemy's weakness the southern troops win a great victory. Colonel, now Private, Winelow is summoned to headquarters, and when he learns that his son made the victory possible the stirring drama ends with their recon-

The Keystone today is a two reeler called Fickle Fatty's Fali. . Arbuckle is no made-up fat man. He is the real genuine fat man, weighing at present 285 pounds. In his extensive experience Arbuckle has played many parts. He has done singing and acro-batic stunts all over the country and has even broken into opera. He was a hit the first time he was filmed by the Keystone studio in The Gangster.
Arbuckle is a fat boyish husband in Fickle Fatty's Fall. He throws a chef and a butcher boy out of his kitchen, when he finds them fighting over the maid. He gets infatuated with the maid and she is fired. He then has to be cook and maid for the household, with amusing consequences. He takes the maid to the baths and they have a great time flirting and diving till the wife and mother-in-law appear. Then there is a replic setwary Fetting. there is a rapid getaway. Fatty and the girl in one motor, pursued by wifey and mother-in-law. The wife's car becomes unmanageable and she thrown in the water. She is rescued by Fatty. He looks for a life pre-server to throw to the mother-in-law-but finds it is fastened with a chain and lock. He then throws her an anchor. The chef has also been thrown in the ocean. The pair are finally rescued by some cops who have also been hurled in the water by a runaway

There are some thrilling as well as There are some thrilling as well as comic effects in the runaway auto episodes and the rescues in the water. In addition to this excellent picture programme, there are three big time waudeville acts, headed by the Mazetti troupe of acrobats. Ther are five menin this act and they are without a doubt the greatest accordance over some in this act and they are without a doubt the greatest acrobats ever seen in this city. The second act is the Belmonts, who present a novel singing, whistling and musical novelty that is always a big hit. The third act is George Hall, a comedian who has a clever line of songe and stories that are sure to amuse you. Usual time and prices.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Packer Jim's Guardianship, Two Reel Biograph Western Drama.

This powerful and appealing drama of the mountains is thoroughly characteristic of the great Biograph comteristic of the great Biograph company, who present this to the patrons of the Colonial today. It tells of Bill Pape, recently widowed, and his motherless little girl, who together live in the hills many miles from the nearest camp. He falls ill and sends the little girl for the doctor. Riding her father's horse, she is seen by marauding Indians, who put chase after and capture her. The capture is seen by Packer Jim, a new frontiersman, who pursues, and after a fierce struggle succeeds in getting the child from the redskins. Jim takes her to her home, where the dying father gives her over to the care of Jim, who in turn places her in a convent for an education. Jim

TO THE GATES OF DAY. I know the way to the Gates of Day For ever I hear a sweet Dream say 'It's over the waters dark and deep; But the lights of God fall not or sleep— Still for your guiding their watch they keep!
And you shall not miss the final way Over the Deep, to the Gates of Day? I know the way to the Gates of Day It lies o'er the starlli graves and gray Where the weary and weeping knee to pray—
Where they feel in God's stlence a clasping hand
Leading them up from a lonely land To heights where the lower star-lamps stand
And who shall miss that brightening way
Over the Deep, to the Gates of Dayl To the Gates of Day through grief and tears And the mystical moan of the chasten-But even through tears there shines the light the light
Where is no weeping—where falls no
Night;
A Voice in the stillness forever—hark!
The word of a starbright dream in the dark:
"Sure as the lights of God is the way
Over the Deep to the Gates of Day!"

-Frank L. Stanton A PERFECT DAY.

When you come to the end of a Perfect Day.
And you sit alone with your thought
While the chimes ring out with a care For the joy that the day has brought;
Do you think what the end of a Perfect Day Can mean to a tired heart, When the sun goes down with a flam ing ray, And the dear friends have to part? Well, this is the end of a Perfect Day, Near the end of a journey, too; But it leaves a thought that is big and with a wish that is kind and true.

or memory has painted this Perfe With a Day with colors that never fade, With colors that never fade, And we find, at the end of a Perfect Day,
